INTERVIEW WITH MARCY HART

Q. You obviously came in playing pretty well. Do you think it's close, or you hope?

MARCY HART: Yes, I hope. I'm just not getting ahead of myself. I'm just coming out here, relaxed, just playing golf and not worrying about a whole lot. So I made my life a lot easier a couple of weeks ago.

Actually, it's the first time I actually got to play like half the season without having to worry about going back to school and doing my card. So really, I want to play well the rest of the year, but it's easier now and obviously easier to play (inaudible)

Q. Absolutely. Let's focus on one or two things from the first round that did carry over from the previous weeks' tour.

MARCY HART: I just tried to come in, went to Rochester, and I'm kind of not really working on the mental side but really trying not to be so hard on myself and hit every shot perfect, because it's just not going to happen.

That was one thing I was working on, and I just worked with my swing coach, and those two things seemed to work well together in Rochester and then in match play and then best ball with Julie. She is good, man. Anyway, I just tried to come into this week with the same intention I did in Rochester.

Q. Well, it's working.

MARCY HART: Yes. Not bad, huh?

Q. (Inaudible)?

MARCY HART: I saw that, my husband showed it to me. My husband watches that. I don't always pay attention.
